

Providing people with physical disability with the Support to access further education, training and employment opportunities.

The Training Service consists of a range of person led programmes that promote the social inclusion of people with physical disabilities. The model of service has Community-based, Employment-based and Foundation Training, elements, backed up by a Training Support Service and includes:

- Comprehensive Vocational Profiling
- Customised Training Programmes
- Accredited Qualifications
- Employment Opportunities
- Personal Development
- Community Inclusion
- Socio-Vocational Brain Injury Service

The Cedar Foundation provides a wide range of training support services across Northern Ireland to people with physical disabilities, including people with traumatic brain injury.

The Trainee Pathway:

- Referral to the Programme
- Admission and induction
- Vocational Profiling to determine training goals and preferred learning styles
- Action Planning to develop an individual Training Plan
- Implementation of Training with any combination of community-based, work-based and foundation training
- Provision of appropriate support from Training Support Service
- Monitoring and Review to ensure service quality
- Progression to employment, voluntary work, further education training or community based activities.
